

13-HOUR TALKS
FAIL TO YIELD
STRIKE BREAK

NEW YORK (AP)—A series of city hall mediation meetings recessed at 3:55 a.m. today with no reported progress in attempts to end this city's 52-day-old shut-down of nine major newspapers.

The mediation effort, led by Mayor Robert F. Wagner, recessed until mid-afternoon after three sessions totaling 13½ hours. It followed a 13-hour City Hall negotiation meeting Saturday, also with no progress reported in attempts to end a printers' strike.

NO COMMENTS
The mayor gave orders to both sides not to comment for publication on any issues discussed within the meetings.

"We have an understanding," Wagner said, "that we will not discuss substantive issues with newsmen. We can only talk on procedures."

The publishers' representatives, union officials and a federal mediator all left City Hall within minutes of one another and all declined comment on the negotiations.

Wagner reported that both sides had made sincere efforts to end the strike by Local 6 of the AFL-CIO International Typographical Union. "Everyone cooperated," he said. He declined comment on whether progress had been made toward reaching a settlement.

The talks resumed at noon Sunday.

"We had a long day," said federal mediator Stephen I. Schlossberg. "We're all tired."

Wagner was following the format set by the mayor of Cleveland, Ohio, who intervened in negotiations there to settle strikes that have closed down that city's two daily newspapers for 60 days.

CLEVELAND TALKS
Talks between the striking Cleveland Newspaper Guild, AFL-CIO and management of the Plain Dealer and Press & News resumed at 2 p.m. in the office of Mayor Ralph S. Locher.

Besides talks with the guild and the independent Teamsters Union, which also is striking the two Cleveland papers, publishers also are negotiating with 10 other unions for new contracts. The contracts of eight of those 10 unions have passed the expiration date and parts of the other two expire this week.

The Cleveland Teamsters negotiations, being held away from City Hall, are reportedly close to a settlement. The Teamsters represent delivery drivers. Working conditions and wages are the main issues in their dispute.

3,000 IDLE

A union security issue has been the stumbling block in reaching agreement on a new contract with the Cleveland Guild, which also is seeking wage increases for editorial and commercial employees. In all, more than 3,000 Cleveland newspaper people are idle due to the strike.

The New York dispute has put 20,000 newspaper people out of work.

The publishers' offer of a $10 weekly package over two years compares to a union demand for a two-year package that management says will cost $37 a week per man, including $18 in wages. Prestrike wages for printers were $14 a week for day work.

MISS LONG AND

Carol Murtorf, Mt. Holly Springs, was the bridesmaid. Both are cousins of the bride. Both wore royal blue satin, princess style, with matching chin-length veils. Each carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

The best man was George Hostetter, New Bloomfield, and the ushers were Larry Robinson, Mt. Holly Springs, a brother of the groom, and Charles Murtorf, Mt. Holly Springs, the bride's cousin.

The bride's mother wore light blue lace over taffeta with dark blue accessories. She had a pink rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore teal blue wool with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.

There was a reception following the wedding for about 100 guests in the Aspers fire hall. The couple left on a wedding trip with their destination unannounced. For going away the bride wore a red tulle gown with a fur collar and black accessories. They will reside at Gardner's R. 1.

The bride was graduated from York Springs High School with the class of 1955 and is employed as a practical nurse at the Pape Convalescent Home here.

The bridegroom was graduated from the Carlisle High School and served four years in the U. S. Marines. He is employed by the C. H. Masland Company, Carlisle.

HEARING TONIGHT

A hearing will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder on a charge of assault and battery brought by Clara Miller, Gettysburg R. 6, against Margaret Showaker, Cashtown. The charge alleges Mrs. Miller was shoved against a machine at Penn-Mo Shoe Co., Fairfield, and suffered a cut on the head last Wednesday morning.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Machines at Lockheed Aircraft Corp. voted overwhelmingly to approve a new labor contract providing for increased wages, along with vacation and insurance benefits. PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Chief Justice John C. Bell Jr., of the Pennsylvania Supreme Court, said today a 14-day-old transit strike is "absolutely intolerable" and of grave concern to the city, the 5,600 strikers and the Philadelphia Transportation Co.

New Snowplow Works Out

Mt. Joy Twp. had an opportunity to use its new grader as a snowplow over the weekend. The Austin-Weston power grader is shown bearing a 12½-foot wide, 7½-foot high plow. The plow clears a nine-foot path at its base. The high "wings" are designated to throw the snow high over drifts along the road. The grader, which was purchased primarily for road construction as well as snowplowing, is an all-wheel drive vehicle, and the wheels at each end steer independently, this permitting it to turn into narrow spots. It also has sufficient traction to permit the front end to climb a straight wall. Richard Reaver, Clarence Myers and Paul Straley are the supervisors of the township. The former is shown with the big vehicle. The township anticipates that the machine will cut the cost of plowing snow in that the need for rental equipment will be lessened.

SENATE GROUP CALLS QUIZ OF
CUBAN PERILS

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Preparedness Subcommittee has set out in a maze of claims to gauge for itself the perils of Soviet military power in Cuba, and to see if it is swiftly increasing.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., the subcommittee chairman, ordered the investigation Friday, saying: "Reports which have come to me indicate that the continued presence and buildup of military might in Cuba is rapidly converting Castro's forces into the second most powerful military power in the hemisphere."

"Since these forces were controlled by the hostile rulers of Communist Russia it is imperative that we examine carefully... the threat which it poses to our security and the state of our own military preparedness to meet and counter this threat."

CLOSED HEARING

Sources said military and intelligence officials would be among the witnesses for the hearings which they expect to begin in two weeks behind closed doors.

Stennis ordered the investigation hours after hearing Secretary of State Dean Rusk and John A. McCone, director of the Central Intelligence Agency, brief the Senate's Latin American Affairs Subcommittee in a closed session.

Stennis himself reserved comment on what Rusk and McCone had said. Nor did he indicate their testimony was the reason for his subcommittee's investigation.

Informants said the Preparedness group will explore various reports on the extent of Soviet strength in Cuba — including whether it has the equivalent of two divisions there and whether any nuclear arms are among the weapons.

CLAIM RED POWER

Republican national Chairman William E. Miller has charged that Russians now have in Cuba "enough nuclear warheads to blow the roof off the Kennedy mansion in Palm Beach."

Sensors who questioned Rusk and McCone told reporters later Russia evidently has built a powerful military-political base in Cuba, but that they had heard nothing to confirm that Cuba now has nuclear warheads.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, of Minnesota, assistant Senate Democratic leader, told newsmen that Rusk and McCone "stand by" the assessment President Kennedy gave his news conference Thursday.

"BEST INFORMATION"

The President said then that "the best information we have is that one ship has arrived since the October crisis, which may have had arms on it, possible military cargo. But there has not been a military buildup in that sense of the equipment coming in from outside of Cuba."

Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, N.Y., has declared he has information "confirmed by official government sources," that Russia has poured 20,000 men and munitions into Cuba and that a buildup of Soviet military installations there is continuing.

He said the munitions include warplanes capable of carrying nuclear warheads, and with a range embracing many target areas in the United States and Latin America. But he said he has no knowledge of whether Cuba has received nuclear warheads.

St. Vincent Chapel
And Seminary Burn

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Fire struck two old buildings today at St. Vincent College. It was reported out of control.

The blaze started in the old Student Chapel, also housing a biology laboratory, and spread to an adjoining seminary building. The structures are at the center of the campus.

There was little wind, and a spokesman for the college said it did not appear the fire would spread to other buildings.

The chapel seats about 400. No injuries were reported.

pass action brought by Mrs. Helen M. Guthrie, administratrix of the estate of Edna Mae Stahl, late of Gettysburg, against Mrs. Ida E. Smith, Gettysburg R. D. The proposed settlement is for $1,854.06 plus costs of the case. The suit arises from an accident at the corner of Baltimore St. and W. Middle in which Mrs. Smith's car struck Mrs. Stahl as she walked across the intersection. The only heirs are Mrs. Stahl's two adult children, Mrs. Guthrie and William E. Rupp. The settlement calls for allocation of $854.06 for hospital and burial bills, $800 under the wrongful death portion of the action to be divided between the two children and $200 to be granted under the survival action of the trespass action.

The court also stayed a sheriff's sale until March 1 in the assumpsit action of R. L. Shillito against Ronald C. and Laura B. Kohr, Mr. and Mrs. Kohr in their petition asking the stay of the sale from February 2 to March 1 said that in December, 1961, they executed a promissory note for $1,007.27 to Shillito, that on December 22, 1962, he entered a writ of execution against the property in Reading Twp., that the Kohrs were not aware of this to January 12, that rather than have property they bought December 15, 1959, for $28,000 be sold.

for a $1,007.27 debt, they proposed stay of the sale and would pay $200 on the sale and amount by February 1 and by March 1 would pay off the balance of the principal sum, costs, etc. The Kohrs said that when the proposal to stay the sale was made to Shillito he refused the request.

A special collection for missions, International Christian youth exchange, was received during the service Sunday morning in St. Paul's Lutheran Church. The sermon was delivered by the pastor, the Rev. Lawrence H. Roller. The Old Testament lesson was read from 2 Kings 5:1-15a; epistle, Romans 12:16b-21, and the gospel, Matthew 8:1-13. An anthem was sung by the choir. It was announced that Camp Nawakwa applications are now available in the church office and the registration forms should be sent to Ira Sassaman, Harrisburg.

Following the Sunday service Pastor Roller baptized Larry C. Weikert, son of Larry M. and Susan (Bortner) Weikert, of town. The parents were the baptismal sponsors. The child was born October 20, 1962, in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

over, crop estimate and quality of harvest to arrive at a fair market price. A committee then relays the findings of the group to processors and cooperative efforts are made to establish market prices, Trostle said.

"The organization serves as somewhat of a bargaining table to stabilize prices between processors and growers," Trostle explained, "and helps to promote and sell apple products with the processors." Ralph W. Tyson, Gardners R. 1, also is a director of the national committee.

Trostle said that growers are assessed two per cent of gross sales to maintain the service. He said that last season 100 association members supplied over 50 per cent of processing apples in the area.

WARNS GROWERS

Wesley Haer, manager of the Pennsylvania Apple Division, warned growers at the meeting that, "if growers don't organize to market their harvests, the government will do it for them." He said that the department of agriculture is concerned with elevating the farmers' position in the market place and "will take steps to do this if the growers indicate that they are not able to do it for themselves." He said that processors have shown a genuine desire to work with growers.

Tom Piper, marketing specialist, PSU extension services, discussed the role of the farmer in marketing organizations, and G. A. Biggs, president of the Pennsylvania Marketing Association, stressed the importance of member participation in the organization. Biggs is a dairy farmer from McConnellsburg, and is a director of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the AAMA and a member of the AAMA fruit committee. He is president of the Pennsylvania Farmers' Association.

anniversary this year. She said, "Eleven children were in residence when Mooseheart was dedicated on July 27, 1913, and the dream of James J. Davis became a reality. During the last half century thousands of dependent children of deceased members of the Moose have had good homes and were prepared for useful adult living by excellent training in their formative years." She said that wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of members of the order who attended the dedication were enthusiastic about the Child City, as members of the women's circles, which in 1933 became the national organization known as Women of the Moose and which "has had an outstanding record of accomplishments for Mooseheart."

"There were only a few dilapidated buildings at Mooseheart when it was dedicated," she said.

COVERS 1,100 ACRES

"Now it is a complete community occupying more than 1,100 acres, with more than 100 buildings and 8½ miles of paved roads. The dedication ceremony for the new field house will be a highlight of the international convention in June."

It was reported that the five companies had collected $457.31 for the new field house. Two new candidates from Hanover were enrolled. A number of door prizes were awarded and gifts were presented to the senior regents present. The Gettysburg chapter presented gifts to members of the College of Regents who were present. The Hanover chapter presented a gift to the registration chairman, Mrs. Johnson.

Refreshments were served by a committee headed by Miss Stras-

Explorers Paul Bowman and Larry Altoff and the latter's house guest, Leon Fink, Hanover, accompanied Post Advisor Stanley F. Frock to the Adams County Home on Saturday night to tell the guests there about the summer trip to Canada of Post 84, in story and with colored slides.

Dr. Albohm Will Go To Alexandria

Dr. John C. Albohm, 50, now superintendent of the public schools at York and well known among Adams County educators, will become superintendent of the public schools of Alexandria, Va., in March.

Dr. Albohm has spoken here on various occasions, among them the dedication of the Eisenhower Elementary school.

Mr. and Mrs. Albohm and their two children will move to Alexandria after the spring school term ends. He will succeed T. C. Williams who has been head of the Alexandria schools for 29 years and is retiring. Dr. Albohm is a nationally recognized educator. His selection ended a seven-month search for a superintendent. His name was proposed by the School of Education at the University of Pennsylvania as "one of the outstanding educators in the United States." He has had 21 years of school experience.

REV. FEHL IN HEALTH WORK FOR MIGRANTS

Rev. Harry Fehl Jr., for a number of years pastor of Memorial EUB Church here and now stationed at Frederick, is quoted by Frederick newspapers as involved in a pilot program for health education of migrant workers which may establish a national pattern for such work.

Details of the plan were outlined at a meeting in Frederick of various health, education and welfare agencies of that county with a committee from the Frederick County Migrant Ministry.

In reports of the meeting, Frederick newspapers quoted Rev. Mr. Fehl as saying that his final program to be worked out in Frederick County may be used nationwide as a pattern for joint community aid to the workers.

TO OPERATE SOON

No timetable has been set up for completion of the program, he said, but members of the Frederick County Health Education Committee hope it will be operational when the first wave of migrants arrive early in June.

Mrs. Kent Golden, York Springs; Wilmer Tuckey, Biglerville R. 1; Mrs. Wayne Warren, York Springs; Keith Tuckey, Gardners R. 2; Mrs. Wilmer Knouse, Arendtsville; Mrs. Cameron Barbour, Bendersville, and Mrs. Frederick Oyler, Biglerville.

They have 16 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Primary emphasis of the embryo program will be on methods of relaying to the workers information of various services already available in the community and of training them to take care of their own health needs, Rev. Mr. Fehl said.

Representatives of other community organizations will meet with the committee later, Rev. Mr. Fehl said, to map plans for facing the program with facilities they can offer.

The health of the entire community is involved in the project, he continued, since an outbreak of disease at one of the migrant camps sparked by poor health habits could spread readily throughout the area.

The minister pointed out that personal hygiene and health habits, rather than lack of camp facilities, is usually responsible for any outbreak of disease.

Members of the committee plan to meet again Wednesday to continue formulating the program. On February 6, a representative of the Howard University Department of Preventive Medicine and Public Health will meet with the group to coordinate ideas of the two organizations.

400 Return Home After Evacuation

BETHLEHEM, Pa. (AP)—Some 400 persons evacuated from a four-square block area following gas explosions which tore apart three houses and killed one man returned to their homes Sunday after workmen repaired a break in a 12-inch gas transmission line, and restored gas and electricity.

The break was found in front of the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Toth, whose home was ripped by the first blast. They were away at the time. Two explosions followed, killing Joseph Greenmeyer, in his 70s, who lived alone.

Injured was Mrs. Anna Aldinger 34, who lived in the third house. She was admitted to St. Luke's Hospital in critical condition with 65 per cent burns of the body.

Also hurt was Emery LaBar, 28, who suffered a hand injury shattering a window in an effort to get into one of the houses to help.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

We learn that all the Harper's Ferry prisoners, including those from Capt. Hunter's company, have been exchanged, and are again ready to take the field.

The Littlestown Railroad Company have elected the following Board of officers: President — Ephraim Myers; Directors: Enoch Leffever, Edmund F. Shorb, James H. Colehouse, Isaac Sell, David Schwartz, Joseph Barker, William F. Crouse, William Dutterar, Philip Kuhler, Samuel Galt, James W. Barr and Benjamin Landis.

A correspondent of the Philadelphia Inquirer states that on Friday last the President remarked that he considered the rebellion nearer being crushed than ever before, and that we now hold a hundred thousand square miles more than we had a year ago. This is true. A year ago the flag of the Union floated in but two of the rebel States; it now waves over parts of all of them.

The New Treasury Notes: Arrangements are being made for the speedy emission of the one hundred million new Treasury Notes authorized by the late joint resolutions of Congress. The agents of the companies now engaged in printing greenbacks for the Government are here, as are also the representatives of two other companies, each desirous of securing a share of the new work. It is believed that Secretary Chase, profiting by experience, and in order to provide against damaging delays, will so divide up the printing of these new notes as to guarantee the payment of the army in the very shortest possible time, that the sources of American art can compass.

The Ladies' Supper: Last week we called attention to the proposed Supper to be given by the ladies of Gettysburg on the 22nd of February for the benefit of the new College building. The committee then announced, with Mrs. C. W. Duncan and Miss Annie Danner from the Reformed church, have held another meeting and are perfecting their arrangements to make this entertainment one of the most complete successes our town has ever seen. That the location of Pennsylvania College in our community is beneficial to all who live within our town and county will scarcely be disputed by anyone. It not only furnishes the means for a thorough, liberal education for our youth, at a comparatively small cost, and refines and elevates the tastes, intellects and morals of our town, but, viewing the subject from a material standpoint, the presence of 125 or 130 students during nine months of the year adds largely to our business revenues. The new College building will be a magnificent addition to the town, making it more attractive, and be the means of bringing a large increased number of students here to receive their education. But argument to induce our people to cordially and liberally co-

Today's Talk

DEVOTION

You have to give in order to get anything in this world. But when it comes to friends, this gift is more precious and important than any other for you have to give in devotion.

Nothing sordid enters in a true friendship. Its cement is that of devotion, and it is rendered for life. Without it love could find no reason or excuse for existence.

It is difficult for a child to understand the devotion of mother or father — but there comes a time, when that child becomes a father or mother, when it all flashes plain and understandable.

The devotion of a dog to its master is something that has about exhausted the ability of the most expert at word handling to describe. You could be worth a billion dollars, but if you were not honest and square in your heart, the simplest dog would not trust you! I have seen a dog "size up" people. I have seen one man step up only to be ignored and another, just as much a stranger, be given a hearty welcome. Dogs are great judges of character.

On the other hand, the devotion of a mother transcends all else. That is because it is entirely unselfish.

A man may be devoted to his art, to his love of the wild, and to travel, as a means of expressing his devotion to the many ideals and movements of his heart, but always there must be something underneath that is not selfish and which belongs, somehow, to others as his gift.

Stevenson, I believe it was, said that "devotion is the exercise of love, by which it grows." So it is that people who give devotion in turn themselves become enriched in love.

We must devote something of ourselves all the time to some one or to some thing. It is the law of growth and happiness. But if we devote ourselves to something outside a human being that something must intimately touch human beings, else it loses all its warmth.

Why must the flesh be so foolish and weak?
Why must we mortals so slowly acquire
The few grains of wisdom we're prompted to seek?"

Why must we rest when there's so much to learn?
Surely if man would life's lessons complete

U.S. MONA LISA MAY HAVE BEEN MASTER WORK

By MILES A. SMITH

NEW YORK (AP)—Leonardo de Vinci's famous "Mona Lisa," on loan from the Louvre, will leave the National Gallery in Washington next week for a visit to the Metropolitan Museum of Art.

So this is an appropriate time to recall another "Mona Lisa" that has been in the hands of an American family for a century and a half. The story of how it came here is almost as exciting as the experience of seeing such a painting.

As many followers of art know, several versions of the "Mona Lisa" have turned up over the years in France, England and other European countries, and even in this country. Art experts say that some of them quite obviously are copies, some of later date.

SOME RIGHT AGE

But some of them, by laboratory tests, can be shown to have the right age. They lack the thorough documentation of the unquestioned example from the Louvre, but their owners feel their quality is evidence that Leonardo himself painted them.

After all, he did two versions of "The Madonna of the Rocks," and it's possible he did more than one version of the "Mona Lisa."

One painting is known as the "Vernon Mona Lisa" from the name of the family which has owned it. At present it is in a storage vault not many miles from the Metropolitan Museum.

In 1778 William Henry Vernon of Newport, R. I., who had been graduated recently from Princeton University at the age of 18, went to Paris. His family had a good friend — Benjamin Franklin — who introduced him to the court of Louis XVI. Young Vernon liked court life so much that he stayed nearly two decades, right through the turmoil of the French Revolution.

Although he was imprisoned for a time during the Reign of Terror, he managed to get back to America in 1797, bringing his court costume of peach brocade, an embroidered taffeta dress whose owner he never identified — and 55 Old Master paintings.

Vernon certainly wasn't afflicted by poverty. On the other hand, his father had not supplied him with the sort of funds that would enable him to collect that many Old Masters. (After his death in 1833 most of them were sold at auction in Newport.)

SMUGGLED ROYALTY
The implication is that, with the help of his American citizenship, he was able during the French Revolution to smuggle out to safety many members of the French nobility, who paid him off in works of art. There even was an old record of his passage to America, showing he was accompanied by a valet and a "pupil."

One theory is that the pupil might have been the young French dauphin.

If Vernon ever left an account of his adventures — and this seems unlikely — it has disappeared. The Newport home in later years became a museum, and descendants of the family have retained the "Mona Lisa" he brought with him. Many of the historical details were pieced together a dozen or more years ago by a friend of the family, Erlo Van Waveren.

The Vernon painting has one characteristic that differentiates it in one glance from the Louvre painting. On each side there is an edge of an architectural column. A less obvious difference is that some of the landscape in the background is a little different.

The image of La Gioconda is much the same, although the lady in the Vernon painting may not be quite as mature as in the Louvre painting. The colors are described as being definitely brighter, or perhaps less faded. The famous enigmatic smile is the same.

Alcoa Researcher Dies On Saturday
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Funeral services will be held Tuesday for Edgar H. Dix Jr., former assistant research director for Aluminum Company of America.

Dix of suburban Oakmont died Saturday at West Penn Hospital. He had suffered a heart attack last December.

He served as assistant research director for Alcoa from 1942 until his retirement in 1958 and was responsible for many aluminum alloys in use today.

A native of Baltimore, Dix joined Alcoa Research Laboratories at New Kensington, Pa., in 1923 as chief of the metallurgy section.

SPRING REDUCING SERIES.
Would you like to shed some weight before you shed your winter wardrobe? The means are at hand. A one-a-week series on reducing begins here and now.

Actually most of us do need to lose. One out of every five Americans has a serious weight problem. Very few are in the shape they'd like to be. Thus overweight has become a universal concern and reducing, a topic of universal discussion.

Our ideas on the subject, however, are often more fanciful than factual. Were we to weed out the true from the false, there would be fewer reducing failures. Let's work on that right now.

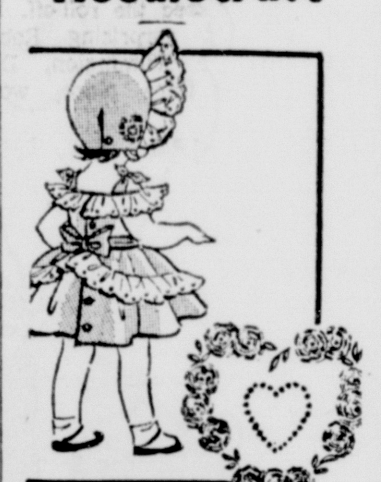

Entirely false is the notion that it is natural to gain weight as you grow older. One's ideal weight never changes. It should be established in early adulthood and maintained for life.

Another popular misconception is that crash diets are the most effective. Any sort of fat diet cannot be endured long enough to achieve a significant loss. Thereafter the pounds come creeping back.

On the side of truth is can be said that glandular disturbances temper weight losses. But those who suffer the condition are infinitesimal in number. The overwhelming majority hold onto weight because their caloric intake is greater than can be utilized by the body in this era of decreased physical labor and exercise.

Nothing but the truth: A well-balanced diet of 1,200 calories per day reduces at the rate of two pounds weekly, without discomfort.

Legislature To Begin Work Today

HARRISBURG (AP)—The 1963 General Assembly reconvenes today with Republican leaders hopeful they can take some action this week on more of Gov. Scranton's proposed legislative program.

Legislation implementing more of the governor's proposals—which he outlined in an address to a joint session last week—is scheduled to be introduced in both the House and the Senate.

In addition, both Republican majority leaders—Albert W. Johnson in the House and James S. Berger in the Senate—hope some action will be forthcoming on Scranton bills already introduced.

5 MAJOR FIRES TAKE LIFE AND HEAVY LOSSES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Five separate fires in central Pennsylvania Sunday took one life, hospitalized four others and caused more than a half-million dollars in damages.

The victim was Garfield Daniels, 38, Harrisburg, who died in a fire which hit his three-room bungalow.

The cause of the fire was not known immediately.

A fire, also of unknown origin, at the Palmyra home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert C. Barry hospitalized four of their 10 children, Daniel, 12, Philip, 6, Margaret, 5, and John, 6, with smoke inhalation.

RESTAURANT BURNS

Another four Barry children escaped unharmed.

The most extensive damage was incurred at Hummels Wharf, Snyder County, where flames destroyed a Dutch Pantry restaurant. Authorities estimated the loss at $350,000.

A near capacity crowd of 80 customers was sent fleeing from the building but no injuries were reported.

16 CARS BURN

One fire destroyed the Hicks Garage, an auto dealer's establishment along Route 11 on the north edge of Greencastle, about 11 miles south of Chambersburg.

Alvin Hicks, the owner, estimated the damage to be about $200,000. Sixteen automobiles, new and used, were destroyed, along with two school buses.

Another blaze destroyed the home of Claude Reason on Route 1, west of Greencastle. The cause was not known immediately.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Letter To The Editor

1-24-63
Dayt., Ohio

Editor,
The Gettysburg Times,
Gettysburg, Pa.
Dear Sir:

I am received The Times OK and I am very much pleased with it.

I lived in Gettysburg for a short while, I worked at the furniture factory in 1912-13 and worked on the battlefield pitching tents for the 50th anniversary. Then we left Gettysburg and came to Dayton, although I am going to try to be there this coming July.

I have been coming back to Gettysburg every summer on a visit for the last 20 years and I sure want to make it this summer, which may be my last visit. I am getting pretty old now and am retired and enjoy sitting in the house and looking out at the snow and cold weather.

I was born in Biglerville and worked for the Musselman Canning Company in 1908-09-10, where I met a girl who worked there from Carlisle and, of course, we got married in 1910. Although we did not come to Ohio until 1913, we have lived in Dayton ever since. We raised a fairly large family of eight boys and two girls.

We had six sons and a son-in-law in World War II, all overseas at one time. We got a nice write-up in the Dayton paper when our sixth son left. They all came back; two of them were wounded.

My father was in the Civil War for three years and nine months. His father was a representative of Pennsylvania while Governor Curtin was governor and when I was born my father named me after the governor—the full name is Andrew Curtin Eldred. (Of course, that is my name when I am not full.)

Let me know how much I owe you. You have my house number as 452. It is 454. Sometimes I find my paper in the other fellow's box. Keep the good paper coming and let me know what I owe you.

Thank you again.

BINGO UP TO LOCAL POLICE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Walter E. Alessandrini, state attorney general, says the Scranton administration does not plan a statewide crackdown on bingo parties.

"Gambling is the responsibility of local law enforcement officers," said Alessandrini in an interview from his home here over the weekend.

When Gov. Scranton named E. Wilson Purdy, police chief of St. Petersburg, Fla., as state police commissioner, reports cropped up that there might be an impending crackdown on bingo.

Alessandrini said Purdy's reputation of being tough on bingo in St. Petersburg led many persons to assume Purdy would follow the same policy in Pennsylvania.

Alessandrini explained: "What actually happened was that the communities around St. Petersburg put on a concentrated drive to close down commercial bingo. When these operators moved into St. Petersburg, Purdy served notice on them that they

NBC OFFERING TV SERIES ON SOVIET UNION

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—The National Broadcasting Co., in four programs, is undertaking to explain the "nature of our opponent," the Soviet Union. First of the series, "The Death of Stalin," was seen Sunday night.

By interviews, film clips and a narration by Chet Huntley, the hour-long program started with Stalin, the Soviet Union's "living god" in 1952 when a Communist party congress was almost a tribute to him and his authority. Five months later he was dead.

The program was essentially a rehash of the well-known facts—Stalin's distrust of his chief lieutenants, the bitter struggle for power that immediately followed his death and the execution of Lavrenti Beria, head of the secret police and strongest contender.

KHRUSHCHEV NEXT

The program was enlivened—and weakened—by gossip tales, all of them second-and third-hand reports, and at least one of them flatly denied.

The first program ended there. Next Sunday, there will be another program, "The Rise of Khrushchev." Perhaps it will be more revealing about the

Bullets Defeat Rutgers 72-65 On Late Surge And Fine Foul Line Shooting

Coming from behind in the second half and holding a narrow margin the Gettysburg College basketball team rolled to its seventh straight win by tripping Rutgers 72-65 Saturday evening in New Brunswick, N.J., before a small crowd of 650 fans.

Both teams had trouble finding their marks from the field as Rutgers land only 25 of 81 shots while the Bullets hit on 26 of 62 field tries. On the other hand, Gettysburg was at its very best from the foul line, connecting on 20 of 23 shots. Rutgers went 15 for 26 in charity tosses.

Ted Koerner put the Bullets in front 4-0 on a pair of quick jump shots from the key but goals by Cliff Petersen and Steve Matson plus a free throw soon knotted the count at 5-5 after Roger Gaackler hit from the foul line. The score exchanged hands five times during the remainder of the first half before the Bullets landed the last three baskets to take a 30-23 advantage at intermission. It was George Strouse's corner jump with six seconds to go that put Gettysburg on top.

RUTGERS FALLS AWAY

Petersen and Jay Marcus ripped the cords for a trio of goals while Gaackler managed a corner jump for the Bullets as the Scarlet moved ahead 34-32 early in the second half. Strouse and Gaackler tied the score on charity tosses before the lead sea-sawed twice. At the 15:13 mark Marcus landed a jump to put Rutgers in front for the last time at 41-39. Two seconds later, Don Szedgia added a free throw and at the 14:47 mark Szedgia came back with a jump shot from the key to give Gettysburg a lead it never lost. Rutgers threatened twice minutes later, coming within 50-48 and 52-50, but the Bullets were beginning to hit their stride.

Ted Koerner was the big gun for the Bullets, landing 11 of 20 shots for 22 points, 14 coming in the first half. George Strouse netted 19. Roger Gaackler and Doug Kemper topped the rebound department with 13 and 11, respectively. Rutgers, now 3-11 on the season, was paced by Cliff Petersen with 16 tallies. As a team, Rutgers out-rebounded Gettysburg 56-50.

Bob Hulton's Bullets, 9-2 on the season, will journey to Lancaster on Wednesday to meet Franklin and Marshall. The Bullet yearlings, 7-1 overall, will resume action by tangling with the Diplomats frosh in the preliminary game.

SELLOUT CROWD

Robinson, an All-America end, will receive a trophy as lineman of the year.

The most courageous athlete selection will not be known until the actual presentation is made by Ed Pollock, sports columnist for the Philadelphia Bulletin.

A sellout crowd of 1,000 will be on hand for the colorful program which includes a host of other honored sports guests and comedian Don Adams.

CELEBRITIES COMING

The other sports celebrities who will take bows include heavyweight champion Sonny Liston, light heavyweight champion Harold Johnson, national jockey champion Ron Ferraro, pitcher Jack Sanford of the San Francisco Giants, Gene Mauch, Philadelphia Phillies manager of the year, Robin Roberts, comeback of the year, Jim Katavagis, of the New York Giants, Herb Adderly, of the Green Bay Packers, and coach Rip Enck of Penn State.

Also on hand to get the proceedings underway will be Mayor James H. J. Tate, first chief executive to appear at the banquet since the 1920s.

BIG RACE CARD FOR THIS WEEK

By JOHN CHANDLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Not all of the big stakes races are held on Saturdays or holidays, and the customers at Santa Anita and Hialeah are in for some major attractions in the next few days.

Kelso, Horse of the Year in 1962 for the third straight season, makes his winter debut Wednesday in the $25,000 Palm Beach Handicap at Hialeah. The champion 3-year-old of 1962, Jaipur, and the sensational Ridan are expected to run against Kelso in the 7-furlong race.

On Thursday Rex Ellsworth's Candy Spots, California's speedy young colt who was unbeaten as a 2-year-old in three 1962 starts, makes his first 3-year-old start in the $20,000-added San Vicente Handicap at Santa Anita. Last fall he beat Never Bend, the champion 2-year-old, in the rich Arlington-Washington Futurity in Chicago.

Never Bend, owned by Capt. Harry F. Guggenheim, has been at winter quarters in Columbia, S.C., since Dec. 1. Trainer Woody Stephens reported Never Bend will arrive at Hialeah Thursday to point for the $100,000 Flamingo March 2.

The main winter objective for Candy Spots is the $100,000 Santa Anita Derby the same day, so unless both take a crack at the Florida Derby March 30, the two top candidates for the 1963 Kentucky Derby won't get together again until the big run for the roses May 4 in Louisville.

DON JANUARY BOWS TO BURKE IN 'FRISCO OPEN

By P. D. ELDRED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—For Jackie Burke, life may be beginning again—at 40.

The one-time boy wonder of professional golf, who will be 40 Tuesday, posted his first tournament victory in 18 months Sunday when he outshot fellow Texan Don January in a stretch duel for the San Francisco International Open title.

Burke, with a "worn out" left thumb shot full of cortisone, took command in the clutch with his 30-year-old wooden shafted putter and pulled ahead in the final nine holes to finish with a 4-under-par 67 for a 72-hole score of 276. The first place was worth $9,000.

71 FOR JANUARY

January carded a 71 and totaled 279, taking $4,600 as runner-up. Behind him at 280 came George Knudson, Charlie Sifford and Paul Harney, who faded one by one as the two Texans fought it out over Harding Park's treacherous greens and lakeshore-lined fairways.

Burke, son of a Fort Worth pro, a golfer at 7 and a pro at 18, was the whiz of the pro tour a dozen years ago and winner of both the Masters and PGA in 1956.

Golfing's Big Three—Arnold Palmer, Gary Player and Jack Nicklaus—were not factors, despite Player's blazing 64 on Sunday's round. The handsome South African's 7-under-par finish was a record for the tournament but gave him no more than a tie for 11th at 283.

Palmer slipped to a 74, putting him in a tie for 19th at 285. Nicklaus was eliminated at the halfway point Friday. The hefty U.S. Open champion, plagued by bursitis of his left hip, failed to score well enough to make the 36-hole cutoff after finishing in the money in 28 straight tourneys.

Leading scores and money won: Jack Burke Jr., $9,000, 70-69-70-67—276; Don January, $4,600, 70-70-68-71—279; George Knudson, $2,633, 69-71-69-71—280; Charles Sifford, $2,633, 68-71-70-71—280; Miller Barber, $2,000, 69-70-73-69—281; Dave Marr, $2,000, 74-70-72-65—281; Gardner Dickinson, $1,600, 69-71-71-71—282; Jack Fleck, $1,600, 70-71-70-71—282; Tony Lema, $1,600, 73-67-70-72—282.

STRIKE ZONE IN BASEBALL IS ENLARGED

By BOB GREEN

Associated Press Sports Writer

"The high, hard one," chortled the pitchers in anticipation. "I don't see how it can help," muttered the hitters.

Those were the general reactions today to a baseball rules change that enlarged the strike zone by the proportions of pre-1950—from the top of the shoulders to the knees.

The rule, adopted Saturday for the 1963 season, could increase the strike zone by as much as 10 or 12 inches, said Cal Hubbard, supervisor of American League umpires.

The old rule designated the strike zone as the area "between the armpits and the top of the knees" when the batter assumes his normal stance.

Generally, pitchers greeted the new rule with enthusiasm, batters with much less gusto.

"I'm happy to hear of the change," Milwaukee lefty Warren Spahn said. "It's something that has been needed for some time and it will give the pitchers a fairer strike zone."

Both Spahn and New York Yankee ace Whitey Ford said, however, that they thought the change would not have much effect on them personally. Each now concentrates on control and pitching to spots.

"WAIT AND SEE"

Veteran catcher Yogi Berra of the New York Yankees and St. Louis' seven-time National League batting champion Stan Musial adopted a wait and see attitude.

"It won't effect the hitters too much," Musial said. "Most players are high ball hitters. It might reduce the base on balls, I think if they really want to help the plate so pitchers could more the ball around a bit more."

"We'll just have to wait and see," said Berra. "The umpires will have to change their ways, too. It will help the sinkerballers and those pitchers who throw overhand and throw pretty hard. They'll get the high strikes at the shoulders."

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP)—School teacher Jeanne Ashworth of Wilmington, Mass., and young Tom Gray of Bloomington, Minn., today headed America's top speed skating hopefuls into this week's Olympic trials in Minneapolis after winning championships in the national meet Sunday.

WEBER WHIPS BILLY WELU IN 2ND STAR GAME

By JIM VAN VALKENBURG

Associated Press Sports Writer

KANSAS CITY (AP)—As Dick Weber, the thin man from St. Louis, coolly made off with his second straight All-Star championship, he left the strong impression he is a match for any man in bowling, including veteran Don Carter.

Weber whipped big Billy Welu 642-391 in the three-game title roll-off Saturday night and pocketed a winner's check for $15,000.

Earlier in the day, the 33-year-old Indianapolis native beat Welu 3-1 in the 14th round for a big boost toward the title.

CARTER THIRD

Carter of St. Louis, is still considered the greatest performer in bowling. He has won the world invitational six times in seven years and holds four All-Star crowns, in 1957-58 and 1953-54. He was a close third this time.

But Weber, the lightest finalist at 125 pounds, has finished 1-2 in the All-Star four times in the past seven tournaments. He was runner-up in 1957 and 1960.

Mrs. Marion Ladewig, 48, the famous grandmother from Grand Rapids, Mich., defeated Bobbie Shaler, 33, of Chicago, 586-578 for her eighth All-Star championship, and $5,000.

Carter was beaten Saturday, each time 3-1, by a trio of hot opponents—Eddie Jackson, Ted Hoffman and John Powell Jr.—and just missed the roll-off. But he defeated surprising Robbie Robinson of Wilmington, Del., 677-605 for third place, worth $5,000.

Mrs. Ladewig, who barely reached the title roll-off over Joy Abel, had a 5-7 split to start the 10th frame of her last game. With a chance to take it all, Miss Shaler came back with the same split. Betty Kuczynski beat Miss Abel for third. They are Chicago teammates.

DEFEATS ROBINSON

Carter was beaten Saturday, each time 3-1, by a trio of hot opponents—Eddie Jackson, Ted Hoffman and John Powell Jr.—and just missed the roll-off. But he defeated surprising Robbie Robinson of Wilmington, Del., 677-605 for third place, worth $5,000.

Auburn kept in the Southeastern scramble whacking Georgia 73-62; St. Joseph's of Philadelphia got 2 points from Tom Wynne in a 79-70 decision over Rhode Island; and Walt Hazard scored 32 as UCLA romped against Texas Tech for the second straight night, 103-80.

HICKE BREAKS 1-1 DEADLOCK

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Billy Hicke was given the toughest assignment in pro hockey three years ago. He was named to replace the great Maurice "Rocket" Richard, who retired after 18 seasons with the Montreal Canadiens.

The young right winger couldn't handle the assignment, however, and was given a less-taxing job on the Canadiens' No. 3 line. Hicke is still on the third line, but he scores an occasional important goal that keeps the Flying Frenchmen flying in the NHL race.

Hicke scored a most important goal Sunday night. It snapped a 1-1 deadlock with the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks in the sixth minute of the third period and pushed Montreal to a 3-1 victory.

In other games, Gordie Howe's goal, on an assist by goalie Hank Bassen, moved Detroit to a 5-3 conquest of Boston and the Toronto Maple Leafs downed the New York Rangers 4-2.

Hicke's goal was his ninth of the campaign. Bobby Rousseau scored the clincher in an empty net with only three seconds left. Jean Beliveau also scored for the winners while Bob Turner got Chicago's only tally.

In Saturday's games, New York downed Montreal 4-2, Chicago blanked Detroit 3-0 and Boston upset Toronto 5-2.

CINCINNATI'S BEARCATS WIN OVER ILLINOIS

By JIM HACKLEMAN

Associated Press Sports Writer

After triumphs in the season's dream doubleheader, Cincinnati's tenacious Bearcats and the run-and-shoot Ramblers from Loyola of Chicago could be heading for a spectacular climax to the college basketball year—a showdown for the national championship.

Cincinnati, unchallenged as the country's top team, showed its poise and doggedness Saturday night at Chicago Stadium in a 62-53 victory over third-ranked Illinois that stretched the Bearcat's winning streak to 33—15 this season.

In the opener of the double bill before a packed house of 20,687, second-ranked Loyola ran its record to 19-0 by whipping Santa Clara 92-72.

DUKE BELTS W. VA.

In another headline pairing, fourth-ranked Duke belted sixth-ranked West Virginia 111-71, with Art Heyman scoring 28 for the Blue Devils and Jeff Mullins 27.

Sophomore R. D. Craddock again sparked seventh-ranked Georgia Tech to victory, scoring 8 of the Engineers' last 9 points as they downed Tennessee 73-69 and took another step in a bid for their first Southeastern Conference title in 25 years.

Niagara, the nation's only other unbeaten major club besides Cincinnati and Loyola, won its ninth with an 82-65 runaway against Youngstown.

Utah State nipped Brigham Young 70-67 in a match tied 15 times; Pitt got through Dartmouth's zone defense with a rush in the closing stages and won 70-53; Memphis State blew an 18-point lead, then fought back for a 71-65 victory over ninth-ranked Mississippi State; Seattle star Ed Miles led the way with 24 points as the Chieftains beat Loyola of Los Angeles 64-45.

PSU WINS

Seven-footer Mel Counts netted 27 points and pulled down 19 rebounds, pacing Oregon State over Washington; Penn State rapped Bucknell 90-75; Canisius edged Massachusetts 54-52; and Providence overwhelmed Scranton 101-74.

Kansas State tripped Oklahoma State 57-55, preventing the Cowboys from tying Colorado for the Big Eight lead; St. Louis stamped itself as Cincinnati's stoutest Missouri Valley challenger, beating Bradley 71-63; with eight-ranked Wichita smacked down Air Force 77-45.

Auburn kept in the Southeastern scramble whacking Georgia 73-62; St. Joseph's of Philadelphia got 2 points from Tom Wynne in a 79-70 decision over Rhode Island; and Walt Hazard scored 32 as UCLA romped against Texas Tech for the second straight night, 103-80.

Flick, a left-handed hitting outfielder who averaged .315 with the Phillies and Cleveland for 13 years from 1898 to 1910, now is an 87-year-old resident of Warrensville Heights, Ohio.

301 WINNER

Clarkson, a right-handed pitcher who won 328 games for Worcester, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland in the National League from 1882 to 1894, died in 1909. He won 53 games for Chicago in 1885 and pitched 622 innings and won 49 for Boston in 1889. Only 12 others have won 300 or more in the majors.

According to legend, Cleveland once turned down a trade proposed by Detroit by which Ty Cobb would have gone to the Indians for Flick who won a batting title with a .306 for Cleveland in 1905 yet missed a title while batting .378 for the Phillies in 1900. He was a fine right fielder with a strong arm. He stole 342 bases.

Rice, a near-miss when he was among those considered by the Baseball Writers' Association, was picked the first time he came under the jurisdiction of the 12-man veterans committee.

Snow Storm Dumps 18 Inches On Northeast; South Shivers

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snowstorms and unseasonable cold plagued broad sections of the nation again today after a week-end of wild weather in northeast sections.

A blustery snowstorm which hammered New York State and New England over the weekend tapered off after dumping up to 18 inches of snow in some areas.

The storm swept into the lower Great Lakes region and along the western slopes of the Appalachians. Heavy snow fell in some areas and strong, westerly winds caused considerable blowing and drifting.

162 DEAD

No immediate break in the prolonged spell of cold weather was in sight. The number of weather-related deaths since last midweek rose to 162.

It was below zero again this morning in most of the upper Great Lakes region, the Ohio Valley and westward across the northern plains. The core of the arctic air was over the Mississippi Valley from St. Louis to Duluth, Minn.

Among the coldest spots were Moline, Ill., and Lone Rock, Wis., with 24 below zero. It was the lowest temperature in Moline since Feb. 13, 1905.

Rochester, Minn., reported its 17th consecutive day of below zero readings, a record. Des Moines has had 16 straight days of subzero cold. It was -9 in Louisville, Ky., and the -13 in Chicago beat the record low of -11 for Jan. 28 set in 1885, Evansville, in southern Indiana, reported -15, a record for the date.

The icy air dipped deep into the Southland. It was near zero in parts of Tennessee and readings in the teens chilled central sections of Alabama and Georgia.

LOW 30's IN FLORIDA

Near freezing was reported in northern Florida, with the low 30s reported along the Gulf Coast and up to the 60s in extreme southern Florida. Miami's 66 followed Sunday's high of 85, a record maximum for Jan. 27.

With temperatures near zero, most of the 25,000 residents of Sedalia, Mo., were without heat after natural gas service failed Sunday night.

The snowstorm which hit the Northeast left eight inches of snow in Pittsburgh and from four to six inches in Philadelphia and suburbs.

Deaths related to the two snow storms in New York State since last Friday numbered 16.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The temperature reached 85 degrees in Miami Sunday, the warmest Jan. 27 in Weather Bureau history. Many persons went swimming.

BERLIN (AP) — A sergeant and a corporal of the East German army escaped to West Berlin during the night, bringing along their weapons. West Berlin police reported today. The uniformed pair came through barbed wire border fortifications in the north of the city.

to rest ultimately in the hands of former foes — the West Germans.

It generally is conceded that if the West Germans will under French pressure, the British case will be lost for good.

REPORTS SOON

The compromise plan proposed by West Germany would refer the membership question to the nine-man Common Market Commission, an executive body of international civil servants. The commission would study the problem and report back to the six Common Market members and the British in two or three weeks.

Members of the commission met in emergency session this morning under the chairmanship of Walter Hallstein, a German. Britain's chief Common Market negotiator, Deputy Foreign Minister Edward Heath, spent a busy morning explaining Britain's desire for a reasonably prompt decision.

Movie Director And Producer Succumbs

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Farrow, famed movie director and producer, was found dead of an apparent heart attack in his home in Beverly Hills Sunday night. He was 56.

His son, Patrick, found him. A telephone book was at his side, as though he had attempted to call someone to his aid.

Farrow's wife, actress Maureen O'Sullivan, was in New York appearing in the play "Never Too Late" when she was notified. She was expected here today, accompanied by her daughter, Mia.

MACON, Ga. (AP) — Just before Christmas, Francis James Wrigley suffered a heart attack. The family's traditional reunion and Christmas dinner was postponed. The dinner was held Sunday on Wrigley's 49th birthday. Immediately after the dinner Wrigley collapsed and died — of a second heart attack.

Demands Test By Doctor And Flunks

LANCASTER, Calif. (AP) — Police say Frank L. McWethy demanded that his own doctor give him the drunkenness test.

The officers obliged. The doctor certified that McWethy was intoxicated and officers booked the 44-year-old Lancaster man on suspicion of drunken driving.

The doctor charged McWethy $10 for the test, police said.

TAX EVASION TRIAL GOES ON AT LEWISBURG

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The U.S. government recalled its first witness today for more testimony in the $106,000 income tax evasion trial of two Luzerne County mining firms and four individuals.

Richard H. Schwartz, former bookkeeper for the two firms, was on the stand all day Friday, and was still testifying when Judge Frederick V. Follmer called the usual weekend recess in U.S. District Court here.

The trial was scheduled to resume at 10 a.m.

On trial are the Avon and Peeley Mining Companies of Wyoming, Pa.; August J. Lippi, president of United Mine Workers Union District 1; Robert L. Dougherty, president of the two firms; and Leonard Statkiewicz and Frank Cardoni, former Lippi aides.

They are charged with conspiring to evade some $106,000 in corporate income taxes for fiscal 1957 and 1958 by padding company payrolls with men and women not actually under employment there.

The government contends the companies used the alleged falsified payrolls for income tax deductions.

Schwartz underwent four grueling hours of questioning Friday by John Burke, special U.S. deputy attorney general, handling the government's case in the three-day trial.

The elderly bookkeeper testified, however, that his late assistant, Joseph Fadden — not he — handled all payroll matters for the two companies.

Fadden died in October, 1959.

"I did no work as far as the payroll was concerned, Mr. Fadden did them all," declared Schwartz, who served as bookkeeper for Avon and Peeley from 1956 to late 1958.

RECESS TRIAL: JUDGE IS ILL

LEWISBURG, Pa. (AP) — The income tax evasion trial of two Luzerne County mining companies and four individuals was recessed for a week today because Judge Frederick V. Follmer became ill.

Court officials said Follmer was suffering from a cold and had been advised by his doctor to stay out of court that long.

Follmer is recuperating at his home in nearby Milton.

The announcement was made soon after the trial was scheduled to resume in U. S. District Court. The jury and several government witnesses were on hand.

The government had planned to recall its first witness, for more testimony in the $106,000 tax evasion trial.

Richard H. Schwartz, former bookkeeper for the two companies, was on the stand all day Friday and still testifying when the weekend recess was called.

NUCLEAR TEST BAN IS DELAYED AGAIN BY REDS

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States expects to know within the next week or so whether there is any serious possibility of getting an agreement with the Soviet Union on a nuclear weapons test ban.

Further clues on the chances for a treaty and on Soviet Premier Khrushchev's objectives may be forthcoming with the return from Moscow today of U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler.

Kohler is bringing with him a new message for President Kennedy from the Soviet leader, presumably concerning the current test ban talks. They resume Tuesday in New York, with U.S., Soviet and British negotiators participating.

Khrushchev already has removed a major barrier to serious bargaining by telling Kennedy in an exchange of letters that he would accept two or three on-site inspections a year in the Soviet Union as part of a system to prevent cheating.

The United States and Britain have been asking the Soviet Union to answer a number of questions about how their proposed inspection system would work, such as the amount of free movement the checkers would have.

Soviet officials have been tight-lipped so far.

In a new move to spur the lagging negotiations, Kennedy on Saturday ordered a temporary suspension of underground nuclear testing in Nevada. He complied this action with a warning that the United States will never again agree to a long unpoliced ban on tests.

READY TO TEST

"We are maintaining the capability and readiness to resume our test program at any time," the President's statement said.

This declaration no doubt was a reminder to the Soviets that the United States intends not to be caught short again — as it was in September 1961 when the U.S.S.R. broke a three-year unwritten moratorium by resumed testing.

The prospects for a test ban treaty hinge heavily on the issue of underground tests. Blasts in the atmosphere are relatively easy to detect. But without on-the-spot inspection there is no certain way to distinguish between earth shockwaves caused by underground nuclear blasts and those due to earthquakes or other natural causes.

GM INCOME UP $270 MILLION TO SET RECORD

NEW YORK (AP) — General Motors Corp. reported today the largest sales and net income in its history.

GM said its 1962 net income is estimated at $1,459,000,000. Its previous high net income, in 1955, totaled $1,189,000,000, a difference of $270 million.

Sales last year were estimated at $14.6 billion. The previous high was $12.7 billion in 1960.

The company's net income was $566 million more than in 1961, when it totaled $893 million.

Sales last year were $3.2 billion more than the $11.4 billion registered two years ago.

SALES UP 4 PER CENT

Sales of cars and trucks in 1962, the company said, totaled 5,239,000 units, 4 per cent above the previous record year of 1955 and 30 per cent higher than the 4,037,000 units sold in 1961.

Net income is the figure arrived at after money is put aside for taxes and other things. GM said U.S. and foreign taxes for 1962 will total an estimated $1,475,000,000, compared with $875 million in 1961.

Dividends last year also were a record amount—$3 a share being paid to holders of common stock.

The company said the $850 million in common stock dividends is the largest amount ever paid by an industrial firm.

In 1961, dividends of $2.50 per share were paid on GM common stock. That was GM's previous high.

"National Service Corps" Begins Life In D.C. As Baby Of "New Frontier"

By W. B. RAGSDALE JR.
WASHINGTON (AP)—A few top story rooms in an old house on Jackson Square just a stone's throw from the White House, are the nursery for the newest baby on the New Frontier.

The baby doesn't even have a name yet. Some call it the Domestic Peace Corps. In his budget message, President Kennedy called it the National Service Corps.

"It won't be the National Service Corps," assured one of the youthful planners. "We want something catchier than that."

"BOBBY'S BABY"
"You might call it Bobby Kennedy's baby, for now," he added. "The attorney general talked so much about the project that the President made him chairman of the study committee."

At present the group has no official status, but the hope is clear: to have 200 to 500 corpsmen at work by midsummer on such tasks as community development in an Indian reservation, aides in mental hospitals, following migrant workers and helping them adjust to living conditions, helping Cuban refugees who speak little or no English adjust to their new lives, teaching illiterates projects in both urban renewal projects in both urban and rural areas.

MANY ON LOAN
Many of the study group are on loan from the Peace Corps, bringing along the lessons of its two years of operation.

An executive order is expected soon to give the program official status, followed by legislation to make it permanent.

Rough plans for the domestic peace corps, or whatever you call it, were drafted by an 11-member committee headed by Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and including five other Cabinet members and Peace Corps Director Sargent Shriver.

They proposed an eventual maximum of about 5,000 corpsmen within five years. Corpsmen would serve for one year, compared to two for the Peace Corps, receiving only a living allowance and modest terminal pay. They would have the option of volunteering for a second year.

For a start, the domestic peace corps has staked out pilot projects in South Dakota, New York City, Massachusetts, Kentucky and California.

In New York City, the Board of Education has asked for 100 corpsmen for project activities ranging from "story hours," led by motherly women, to judo classes for restless boys, led by husky young men.

South Dakota has called for corpsmen to work with 10,000 Oglala Sioux Indians on the Pine Ridge Reservation—to help develop new housing, better farming methods and a better community life.

MANY CALLS
The State Department of Mental Health in Massachusetts wants volunteers to help with therapy and rehabilitation.

Kentucky, a state with large pockets of economic distress, in wants corpsmen as guidance

PA. DELEGATION IS CAUTIOUS ON TAX SLASHING

By JOHN KOENIG JR.
Associated Press Special Service
WASHINGTON (AP)—Pennsylvania's 28-member congressional delegation is considering with caution a big issue this session—President Kennedy's income tax cutting proposals.

A cross-section of opinion among the 15 Republicans and 14 Democrats indicates that no one is in a hurry to make up his mind or take too strong a position at this date.

The idea of a tax reduction generally is approved—for what politician doesn't like to tell his constituents he helped cut taxes?

DETAILS TAKE STUDY
With many members, tax reform strikes a harmonious note. But the program has many facets and details which do not immediately hit the eye. Study is required, and for that reason some members are not yet prepared to voice a definite opinion.

For instance, there is a question of whether a limit should be set on individual deductions for interest incurred on debts, for medical expenses and for charitable contributions.

And there is the big question of whether business will go for some of the proposed crackdowns on expense account deductions.

WANTS SPENDING CUT
An objection voiced by a number of Pennsylvania Republicans is that if a tax reduction is to be instituted then expenditures of the government also should be cut.

Probably the biggest question is whether hoped-for consumer purchasing power will stimulate the economy and thus increase in turn the government's cut in tax revenue enough to obviate the initial loss in revenue.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat, says he favors generally the President's proposal but believes strongly that tax reform should accompany the proposal.

GATHER OPINIONS
A member of the Senate Banking Committee, Clark said he is "reserving the right to inspect in detail the whole program."

Clark's opinion is that Pennsylvania occupies a very special position in the national economy at present. What good is a tax cut, he would ask, if it means slowing down possibly the amount of money allocated to public works in Pennsylvania's depressed areas?

Sen. Hugh Scott, Republican, holds that a tax cut should be accompanied by at least some partial reduction in government spending.

In the House, freshman Rep. William D. Weaver, Erie Republican, says he would like to see "more curtailing of spending before a tax cut."

OTHER VIEWS
He pointed out that the nation is paying about $11 billion a year on national debt interest alone.

The dean of the Pennsylvania Republican delegation in the House, Rep. Leon H. Gavin, of Oil City, said he will make a comprehensive study of the entire proposal before venturing an opinion.

Among Democrats, Rep. William S. Moorhead, a member of the House Banking Committee, said he favors a tax reduction over a period of years. But, he said, the delicate balance must be maintained between maximum stimulation to the economy and minimum budget deterioration for the government.

ST. CROIX, Virgin Islands, (AP)—Ashley L. Totten, international secretary-treasurer of the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters and one of its founders, died Saturday after a long illness. Totten, who lived in New York but had a second home here, was in his 70s.

DETROIT (AP)—Andrew C. Baird, 83, sheriff of Wayne County (Detroit) since 1944, died Sunday. Baird, elected to his 11th term last November, was stricken with pneumonia last Tuesday. He was born in Brantford, Ont.

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—John S. (Ole) Olsen, 71, of the comedy team Olsen and Johnson, died Saturday of a kidney ailment. His partner, Chic Johnson, died of a similar condition 11 months ago. Olsen was born in Peru, Ind.

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Boyd Davis, 78, a veteran of stage and screen, died Friday, apparently of a heart attack. Davis, who made his stag debut in 1907, was born in California.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mary Azpiazu, 68, a songwriter and

"Grandpa Moses" Comes On American Art Scene

EAGLE BRIDGE, N.Y. (AP)—When Grandma Moses died more than a year ago, she left behind more than her prized painting and a still life brush. Her heritage may well include a painting dynasty.

The world of art regards Grandma Moses—Anna Mary Robertson Moses—as one of the nation's most renowned primitive style painters when she died in Eagle Bridge on Dec. 13, 1961, at the age of 101.

Now there is a "Grandpa Moses" on the American scene. He is Forrest King Moses and a painter apparently cut from the same canvas as his mother.

EARLY 70 NOW
Moses will be 70 on his next birthday and has 14 grandchildren. He was a painter long before his mother's death, quite unlike Grandma Moses who took up painting only in the sunset of her life.

But Moses was determined not to benefit from his mother's success. Many of his paintings bear the name "Forrest King" and there are those who still are unaware of his connection with Grandma Moses.

SIMILAR TO MOTHERS
Like those of his mother, most of the Grandpa Moses paintings have a certain sprightliness of subject matter and color. He chooses for subjects those rural scenes from what has come to be recognized as Grandma Moses country.

Though she took to it late in life, painting is a tradition in Grandma Moses' family.

The talent extends to Grandpa Moses' grandchildren, so much so that the Grandma Moses shadow may extend over American art for years to come.

The drifting continued until 10 p.m. and by midnight the winds had stopped but traffic had been slowed to a snail's pace at many points on north-and-south highways and at many points only one-way traffic could move. The state plows continued through the night moving Sunday's drifts. The task was not finished until noon today.

Borough snow removal crews started work early Sunday morning and cleared the center town area during the day.

This snow, the second here for 1963, brought to 23 inches the total snowfall here so far this winter. The total for last winter was 41.6 inches and for the winter of 1960-61 it was 69.2 inches, an all-time record here.

This morning's low temperature here was seven.

Crawford County got four inches of new snow Sunday night. Pittsburgh got eight inches of new snow Saturday night and Sunday. The new snowfall brought the total on the ground at Bradford to 15 inches.

Harrisburg had six inches. Reading and Philadelphia got four. Philadelphia's suburbs got up to six inches.

At least three traffic deaths were attributed in part to the storm.

HONORED ON HIS BIRTHDAY

NEW YORK (AP)—Two West Point cadets from Pennsylvania—including the son of a World War II air hero—were among those honoring Gen. Douglas MacArthur on his 83rd birthday Saturday.

Five high-ranking cadets from the military academy, including Cadet Capt. Richard E. Eckert, brigade command, Carlisle, and Colin Kelly of near Media, presented a scroll to the retired general.

Kelly's father, an aviator in the Pacific, was killed on a bombing mission.

The scroll saluted MacArthur as "a great soldier and a great man," holding "a place of honor in the minds of all who aspire to follow the hallowed path of the long gray line."

SANK FIRST CRUISER

"I knew your father well," MacArthur told Kelly. "Your dad sank my first Japanese cruiser for me. He was a very gallant, determined and resourceful young officer. If you can do as well as he did you'll be in the top grade."

Kelly replied that MacArthur's life, "will always be an inspiration to me and all officers throughout the armed services."

At MacArthur's suggestion, Franklin D. Roosevelt, then in the White House, wrote to "the president of the United States in 1956," requesting that Kelly's son, 19 months old at the time, be appointed to West Point.

President Dwight Eisenhower, a West Point graduate, was set to appoint young Kelly in 1959. Kelly declined that appointment and won admission through competitive examination instead.

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By S. F. M. MacPHERSON

TOM'S CREEK CHURCH AND THE REV. PAXTON

In writing a history, however brief, of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian congregation mention must be made of the Tom's Creek Presbyterian Church, Frederick County, Maryland. In the early days the two congregations were, so to speak, a part of each other and often shared the same minister — as in the case of the Rev. William Paxton. This being the case an outline of the background of Tom's Creek is appropriate at this time.

Before the town of Emmitsburg, Maryland, was founded, a settlement of Scotch Presbyterians was made near the Mason and Dixon Line, in what was then York (now Adams) County, Pennsylvania. Some of these people soon crossed the border into Frederick County, and soon thereafter built a church on Tom's Creek Hundred — about a mile and a half from the present town of Emmitsburg. This congregation was known then and now as Tom's Creek.

MINISTER APPOINTED
The minutes of the Presbytery of Donegal show that the Rev. Robert McMordie was appointed to supply at "Monokasy" on the second Sabbath of September, 1760. This is the first notice of divine service within the bounds of this congregation. There was also a Presbyterian congregation at Pipe Creek and the Presbytery being in session at "Mr. Duffield's Meeting House," Carlisle, Pennsylvania, on April 27, 1761, a "supplication" for supplies was presented from Tom's Creek. The response, if any, of the Presbytery is not recorded. This can be readily understood — there were only a few ministers compared to the need and frontier charges were not, apparently, considered particularly desirable.

On June 24th of the same year Tom's Creek again asked for supplies and a similar request was presented at the same time from the people of Pipe Creek. This time the Presbytery acted and the Rev. John Beard was ordered to preach at Tom's Creek the first Sabbath in October (1761). In November, 1761, the Rev. Robert McMordie was again appointed to supply Tom's Creek — once each in the months of December, February and April. At the spring meeting of the Presbytery a further appointment was made for the month of May 1762. In November of the same year the Rev. Samuel Thompson was directed to officiate at Tom's Creek the second Sunday of that month. After Mr. Thompson, who soon thereafter was "settled" at Meeting House Springs, the Rev. Robert Smith served this congregation on "occasional Sabbaths."

PIONEER MINISTER
It is interesting to note that the Rev. Robert Smith was one of the pioneer ministers of the Presbyterian Church in southeastern Pennsylvania and adjacent portions of Maryland. He (Rev. Smith) was born in Ireland and came from Londonderry to this country in 1730. Soon after his arrival he became the pastor of the Presbyterian churches at Pequea and Leacock, Lancaster County, Pennsylvania. He founded and maintained a classical school at the former place, where his life was chiefly spent. The Rev. Smith made long missionary journeys and often served "an occasional Sabbath" with some frontier congregation.

On April 17, 1763, Tom's Creek and Pipe Creek asked leave to apply to the Presbytery of New Brunswick for a young minister to supply them. The answer to this request is not known but apparently it was in the negative for once again the Rev. Samuel Thompson was directed to preach at Tom's Creek on the first Sabbath in June and the Rev. Robert Smith on the first Sabbath in September (1763). It would appear that the Presbytery of Donegal did not want other Presbyteries to think they could "not take care of their own" — as one historian writes.

SUPPLY MINISTERS

From that time on the Tom's Creek congregation was supplied, from time to time, by ministers assigned to that duty by the Presbytery. Among the most outstanding of these men was the Rev. Ezekiah James Balch, one of the first of the early ministers to be born and educated in this country. Rev. Balch first saw the light of day in Harford County, Maryland, and graduated at Nassau Hall (now Princeton University) in 1766. He was licensed the following year by the Presbytery of Donegal. Sometime after his ordination by the same Presbytery he was sent on a missionary journey to the South, and in due course became pastor of the Rocky River and Poplar Tree Churches, North Carolina. He was a member of the famous Mecklenburg Convention, held May 19, 1777, and was one of the three Presbyterian ministers appointed to prepare resolutions for the action of the convention. Mr. Balch died in the summer of 1775 but it adds "a touch of distinction" to Tom's Creek to know that such a man once preached there.

Toward the close of the War of the American Revolution the congregation of Tom's Creek began to think, once more, in terms of a "settled minister." In October, 1780, a paper, signed by forty members of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, was presented to the Presbytery asking leave to unite with Tom's Creek in forming the same pastoral charge. The following April the proposed union was effected — with the consent of all concerned.

REV. MCKNIGHT INSTALLED
The following year, 1781, the congregation called the Rev. Matthew Woods but this minister went instead to Hanover Presbyterian Church, Dauphin County, Pennsylvania. On April 8, 1783 the Rev. John McKnight was chosen. He accepted and was in-

Let's Look At The Record

ACADEMIC IMAGE
In Fiction, Profs Are Screwballs;
On Campuses, Picture Is Flattering

By JIM DAN HILL, Ph.D.
President, Wisconsin State College, Superior

ONE OF THE current Broadway, theatrical hits is little more than an emotional cathartic of verbose abuse by four actors. In the roles of two college professors and their maladjusted wives, verbal garbage is tossed about with rare aptitude.

The caustic psychosis extends far into the night before all delusions are blasted. The play is a reminder of two college officials who recently deplored the image of professors as portrayed in recent novels. Dr. Stringfellow Barr's "Purely Academic," for example, is peopled by a faculty of fakers, four-flushers, screwballs, hypocrites, and campus connivers. The two officials pointed out that professorial characters of another half-dozen or more recent novels on academic life have also given the readers an unflattering image of college and university teachers.

Thus the Broadway play is well in step with the times.

CONCERNING the novel by Dr. Barr, the comment of a college president at the time of its publication is appropriate:

"To be sure, all who have been teaching for 25 or more years have transistorized known such campus characters. But, personally, I had to serve on several campuses through a total of more than 30 years to meet a few such people."

That Dr. Barr was able to entwine the lives of such a cast of stalled in November of the same year. He served the charges faithfully and well until his resignation in 1789.

After a vacancy of some two years Lower Marsh Creek and Tom's Creek applied to the Presbytery "for leave to prosecute a call" for William Paxton, at that time a licentiate under the care of the Presbytery of New Castle. The request was granted and the services of the Rev. Paxton secured. He (the Rev. Paxton) was taken "under the care" of the Presbytery of Carlisle, at Upper Marsh Creek on June 7, 1792, and was ordained and installed at Lower Marsh Creek October 3rd of the same year. These services were held in a grove of trees near the church, due to the fact that the number of people present far exceeded the seating capacity of the old church edifice.

Mr. Paxton ministered to the United churches with great satisfaction to all for four years, when Lower Marsh Creek became desirous of obtaining his undivided time and labors. Application was made to this effect on October 4, 1796. These notes will be continued next week.

on one campus was indeed a neat, imaginative trick. If considered realistic, the book reflects little credit upon St. John's College, Annapolis, Maryland, of which Dr. Barr was president for a brief span of years.

The same comments are applicable to the other recent novels. The trend of modern fiction is to characterize the abnormal and the unusual rather than the typical and the conventional. Thus Dr. Barr was merely following the conventional trend toward emphasis of unconventionality. The same is true of the Broadway play.

ACTUALLY, the teaching profession has been taking a beating in American fiction since the day Washington Irving wrote Ichabod Crane into the "Legend of Sleepy Hollow."

It apparently bothered no one, least of all the teachers. But television has given corporations, institutions, trades, professions and persons grave worries about their "Image."

It is not surprising that even before the above mentioned concern over the image of the professor in fiction, the college of letters and science of a state university had joined three representative types of colleges in an opinion research project to ascertain the image of the typical professor in the minds of their students.

THE RESEARCHERS were pleasantly surprised. The consolidated student image revealed the typical college teacher to be a happy man, more inclined toward think games like bridge and chess than to poker.

Presumably the philosophical prof knows beauty to be only skin deep. According to student opinion, his wife is seldom beautiful. The students considered the college professor to be a man of "intellectual power." He is primarily a teacher. Students seldom see him in the dual role of researcher and contributor to knowledge.

In intellectual power, the college professor has a taller image than any other occupation, including medical doctors, lawyers, engineers and pure, research scientists. At the same time the professor has an active interest in art and general culture.

His interest in people is no more than moderate. He is not excessively domineering, but is opinionated, confident and thoroughly self-sufficient. His sociopolitical outlook is individualistic. If he is not a radical, he has a capacity for giving even a platitude a new or individualistic twist. Hence he sounds radical. The collective student image of the professor further includes an emotional richness combined with a lack of impulse control.

There are high frequency alternations between sunshine and shadow; optimism and pessimism. He has social status; is moderately aggressive; is a man of influence in public affairs.

HAVING determined the collective student image of the typical professor, the researchers used the same techniques to learn the image that the four faculties of the sampled institutions had of the typical professor.

It is hardly surprising that the collective faculty image of the college teacher was not vastly different from that of the students. Compared to the student image, however, they did heavily discount themselves on self-confidence, realistic view of life, social status, and influence on public affairs.
